A monthly publication of First Presbyterian Church · Cape Girardeau, Missouri · November 2017

Most of us have learned to dread a time of pastoral transition. It's like the long weeks of Advent waiting for Christmas, only longer, often lasting for years. As we count the days, time seems to slow down. We just want the child to be born so we can sing Joy to the World! A pastoral search can be like that. But it can also be a time of preparation for the future. I remember well waiting for the births of my own children. It seemed those months were filled with preparation. There were walls to paint, cribs to assemble, and supplies to acquire. All of it prepared us to make space in our lives for a new family member.

Over the past nearly year and a half, your session has been working to prepare the church for the call of its new pastor. They have paid particular attention to the church's financial health. The church's general fund supports the day to day operations of the congregation, including personnel and property expenses, plus programmatic support for Christian education and mission. The general fund income comes from your pledges and offerings. It also includes some income from the rental of our parking lot and from the endowment fund when and if we have positive earnings. For some prior years the session needed to utilize endowment resources greater than the earnings and the endowment fund balance declined.

This year the session has worked to align expenses with income from pledges, offerings and rental income, and to use only the endowment earnings while growing slightly the fund balance. That required significant reductions in spending, particularly in personnel. But it has made possible the use of endowment earnings for exciting mission projects without eroding the endowment balance. The church is in a strong financial position to welcome a new pastor and to fund its current and future ministries.

You can be proud of your leadership for their faithful stewardship of the church's resources. Our building is in great condition. Our staff is happy and productive. Our music program fully funds four choral scholars to enrich our worship services. Our mission engagement in the community is increasing, significantly. Your pledge of financial support ensures that this strength continues from year to year.

Today I'm asking you to prayerfully consider your pledge of financial support of the congregation in 2018. We will collect pledge cards during the offering in worship on Sunday, November 19th. As you make your pledge of support I want you to know that every gift matters, regardless of size. If you are able I hope you will pledge to increase your giving in the year ahead. If you have not pledged in the past now is the time to make your commitment of support.

When we give we do so out of gratitude for all God has done for us and all God is about to do. Bring your completed pledge card to church with you on November 19th and plan to stay for Gather, Eat, and Share as we give thanks to God for our blessings.

I am grateful for the time I've had with you as your interim pastor. I look forward with great expectation to the call of your new pastor and the promise of continued fruitful ministry here. This is what we been waiting for.

Faithfully,
Pastor Terry

Congregational Meeting

The Session has called a Congregational Meeting for Sunday, November 5, 2017, immediately following worship for the purpose of receiving a report from the Pastor Nominating Committee about the candidate they have selected to be the next Pastor and Head of Staff at First Presbyterian Church. After their report, we will vote to approve the call of their candidate, the Reverend Ellen Gurnon. She will preach and conduct our worship service that day. Please plan to stay after church and the meeting in order to welcome Reverend Gurnon and attend a reception in her honor in the Fellowship Hall.
